Digital Transformation: Extinction Event or A Springboard for new services growth

Digital Transformation is shaping the pace of change in every industry. Cloud Service Providers that have traditionally focused on being change agents for their customers are now themselves being transformed and having to decide how they are going to navigate and survive their own transformation journey.

This moderated executive event brings together executives from a broad range of innovative companies together with NetApp to network and to share perspectives and experiences about the key challenges and growth opportunities presented by Digital Transformation and work together with you to achieve competitive advantage.

With the wrong strategy, Digital Transformation could be an extinction event but for the informed executive, Digital Transformation should be a springboard for new business growth.

Join Us and...

- ▶ Network with your executive peers impacted by Digital Transformation
- ▶ Understand how other companies are approaching Digital Transformation
- ▶ Learn about Digital Transformation opportunities that could help drive your business growth
- ▶ Enjoy senior level peer-to-peer interaction in an exclusive venue
- ▶ No product sales presentations. Just good conversation, brainstorming, and ideas exchanging with industry colleagues
